Birmingham University Carnival--

Nov 3rd. '53.

The spirit of Carnival was abroad in Birmingham, as University students rolled out the barrel of fun-- for their annual raid on the City's purses, in aid of various charities. And shades of Macbeth were among the collectors, ~~xxxxxxx~~ who were determined to make Coronation Year a brilliant financial success. /

Started in 1921 by Birmingham's Medical Students, the ~~xxxxxx~~ Carnival covers an ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ international field- with a colourful presentation by the Iranian Students' Society. /

The University Carnival Fund caters for the needs of young and old alike, in this great hub of the industrial universe.

It provides comfortable homes for those in the evening of life- with special amenities- such as headphones and television sets in all kinds of hospitals. Not forgetting the particular wants of the blind. /

The tireless efforts of the Birmingham students have given ample body to the appeal for funds, in which so many well-known charities will benefit. /
