

Affectionate greetings go out from us all to Prince Charles, celebrating his ^{FIVE} ~~fifth~~ ^{YEARS OLD} birthday in Coronation Year. AND.

What a crowded year ^{IT HAS BEEN} ~~has passed~~ for Britain's future King - ^{WHO} ~~who~~ ~~witnessed~~ ~~the~~ ~~crowning~~ ~~of~~ ~~his~~ ~~Mother~~ ~~in~~ ~~the~~ ~~Abbey~~ - ~~and~~ ~~later~~ ~~took~~ ~~his~~ ~~place~~ ~~in~~ ~~that~~ ~~familiar~~ ~~balcony~~ ~~appearance.~~ ~~WITNESSED THE GREAT PAGEANT LAST JUNE~~

The young Prince, ⁻¹⁵⁻ ~~was~~ shared with Princess Anne and his cousins, other exciting occasions of Coronation Year. ^{A GREAT}

All these ^{great} events, no doubt ^{have} made Prince Charles conscious, in some small way, of his ultimate destiny. ~~Thinking training has begun early,~~ and now comes news that a Governor-General for him has been appointed.

Yet perhaps, it would be only natural if the young Prince remembers, most of all, the summer holiday at Balmoral. Treasured moments spent with his parents, to be recalled when they are many miles away, on their forthcoming Commonwealth Tour.
