

Smirke wins the "Washington International"

2074

For race fans, the Washington "International" at Laurel Park, Maryland, lived ^{right} up to its name. The six-Nation entry included Worden ^{The Second} and Silnet of France, No 3, Britain's Wilwyn, Iceberg II (a hot Chilean fancy) and Sunglow - of America...

Two Irish hopes, too, Chamier and Thirteen of Diamonds, as the field of ten get away - with $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles to go. And it's Silnet - showing the way for France.

Up to the bend - and Sunglow takes itx up for America. ~~Crafty Admiral, the~~ ^{CRAFTY ADMIRAL -} U.S. favourite, is there, but now, our own Charlie Smirke brings ^{"P" NO I} Worden II with a smooth run...

Into the home stretch - and it's Worden ~~Admiral~~ (on the outside) coming way from the field. And the American-owned, French-Bred ^{HORSE -} ~~Admiral~~, (with Charlie Smirke in the saddle) wins the £17,000 stake by six lengths. An All-Nations winner of the "International"
