Railway Strike

London - where negotiations opened at the Ministry of Labour ~~and~~ following news of the threatened railway strike. Mr Jim Campbell (on left) the Secretary of the N.U.R., had frequent meetings with Sir Brian <sup>Robinson</sup> ~~Robinson~~ Chairman of the British Transport Commission, and Sir Walter Monckton - the Minister of Labour

After seven days of National anxiety (for the strike would have paralysed the country's transport <sup>at</sup> holiday time) Mr Campbell called off the stoppage after reaching a satisfactory agreement...

So London's main-line termini became, once again, busy centres of good cheer, as visitors journeyed to and from the Capital - to spend the festive season with their families and friends.

Chelsea Arts Ball

London again - and, as ~~xx~~ usual, at this time of the year, Chelsea ~~xxxxxx~~ students are hard at work, preparing their elaborate costumes and floats for their great celebration, the Arts Ball, on New Year's Eve.

This year, the theme of the festival is to be "fun". <sup>Well, that's always so.</sup> ~~In any case,~~ ~~xxxxxx~~, it usually starts with fun and games - ~~xxx~~ <sup>and</sup> ends with a splitting head-ache.

<sup>the School</sup> And/ took the salute as the <sup>Cadets</sup> ~~Parade~~ marched past - members of a Corps which, already has a fine tradition of service.

Plaque to Sir Herbert Tree

London - and in the Haymarket, a plaque commemorates the birth of <sup>the</sup> famous <sup>Vivien</sup> ACTOR <sup>the</sup> Manager, Sir Herbert Tree. Miss Leigh saw her husband Sir Laurence Olivier pay tribute on this 101st anniversary. SOUND
