

EDINBURGH.

Prestonfield House- (~~lying in the shadow of Arthur's Seat,~~ ~~Edinburgh~~) IS INVADDED BY PRESSMEN AS IT becomes the temporary home of the runaway lovers- Mr and Mrs

James Goldsmith- ~~after~~ after their quiet wedding at Kelso.

All the world loves a lover- ~~AND PRESSMEN ARE THERE IN~~ ~~such a strength~~ ~~TOOK THE~~

~~that even the peacocks~~ cover.

~~20 YEAR OLD~~ JAMES GOLDSMITH IS A

~~the~~ young director of seven French Companies, and his lovely eighteen year-old bride/daughter of a ~~millionaire~~ Bolivian tin magnate. ~~THEIR~~ whirlwind romance that ~~SEEMS TO HAVE~~ began in London on ~~Coronation Day,~~ captured the ~~imagination~~ imagination of the world.

Then- the drive into Edinburgh for lunch ~~at~~ with their Prestonfield host and hostess- Mr and Mrs Oliver.

And these ~~pictures~~ THE TWO YOUNG ACQUAINTANCES show how ~~THEIR~~ their surrounded by well-wishers- celebrate/newly-found joy - at the end of their "rush-across the world" journey to happiness.

~~At King's Cross,~~

MR GOLDSMITH AND HIS BRIDE are again besieged by pressmen, and above the noise, answer questions on what they've been doing - and their plans for the future. (Sound to end).
