Mass Paratroop drop

America - where a Fort Bragg, North Carolina, men of the 82nd Airborne Division board a fleet of flying box-cars, to am make a practice jump. The Unit was to take part in full-scale combined military operations - and more than 1100 men make a mass descent. (BRING UP)

Snow-plough competition

France - where a snow-bound mountain road, just outside Boug St. Maurice, was a newly-made testing ground for a snow-plough competition. Several-types of plough took part - each one ready to clear the decks for action. But perhaps the most effective of all was a new machine that worked like a windmill - causing a full-scale blizzard of its own. (BRING UP)

Cycle Ride

France again - where rough-riders took part in a fifteen mile cycle steeplechase which began at Clamart Stadium, near Paris. But it seems that the course of French cycling can never run smoothly for very long. For what with carrying up hills and riding down dales - some soon fell by the wayside. (BRING UP)

The winner, Rondeaux, covered the course in 1 hour, 17 minutes. Nice going (BRING UP)

Jets for Africa

America - and nearly forty of the U.S. Air Force's B.47 jet bombers are waiting to take off on a d sixty-day period of duty overseas. They'll fly non-stop to a North African base in French Morocco, and will be refuelled by huge flying tanks. (BRING UP)

Kenya Parliament

Africa - where Kenya's first Parliament Buildings were opened in Nairobi by Sir Evelyn Baring, the Governor, who was accompanied by a distinguished guest, the Sultan of Zanzibar. Many delegates from the Parliaments and Legislatures of the United Kingdom and from South, Central and East Africa were present. (BRING UP)
