

Atomic suits

America: Wearing his mask and ready for work - an employee tunnels his way into the laboratory at the Hanford Atomic Works, Washington. It's a paper-thin air-tight overall - designed to protect the worker from radio-active dust, while packing nuclear nuggets. Now he's hard at it - packing the nuggets - and in this job - there's no mid-morning break for coffee.

Midget's wedding

Vienna - St. Stephen's Cathedral - where a fifty-four year old midget and his forty-five year old wife solemnize their silver wedding anniversary.

The couple were married in New York and have travelled the globe "under the big top?"

At the reception - they danced their way back through the years in memory and song.

Foundation Stone

Essex: The Mayor of Woodford, Alderman Forbes, lays the Foundation Stone of the first Public Hall for the Borough of Wanstead and Woodford. And Sir Winston Churchill - a Freeman of the Borough - visited his Constituency to lend a helping hand. The Hall will be named after Sir James Hankey - the first Freeman of the Borough.
