

London: Royal Visitors to the British Industries Fair - Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret, arriving at <sup>the</sup> Earl's Court section of our biggest Trade Market.

Every branch of industry is represented - including the <sup>adaptation</sup> ~~adaptation~~ of Naval relics for home use. A cartridge case becomes an umbrella stand.

As for fashions, well, the Princess brought her own - a little Breton Sailor hat that caught all eyes. /S on the Stands, art metal products set <sup>THEIR OWN</sup> a shining example - and clocks and watches (one firm makes three million every year) proved the truth of ~~that~~ old saying "time is money!"

~~OTHER SECTIONS OF THE SHOW ARE AT Olympia & Castle Bromwich, Birmingham,~~
At the Earl's Court show (there are others at Olympia and Castle Bromwich, AT EARL'S COURT,

~~Birmingham~~) the Commonwealth and Empire <sup>E HAVE THEIR</sup> ~~has~~ its biggest-ever display... India tops the list, <sup>but</sup>

~~Though~~ the Canadian Government exhibition, is, <sup>perhaps</sup> ~~no doubt~~, the most valuable with a display of rare and costly furs.

A striking set-piece ~~was~~ <sup>was</sup> "Everest Court," paying tribute, not only to the expedition, but to British and Commonwealth equipment ~~...~~
