

Floods

Bavaria: More pictures of the devastating floods in the Danube valley around Passau. To-day, the town is an island of roof-tops in an inland sea. After hours of incessant rain, the Danube and its tributaries reached unprecedented levels, sweeping across their banks ~~xxxxxx~~ and bringing a flood-tide of misery and despair...

As the waters rose, cattle were taken up into the loft ~~but better news~~ ~~was at hand.~~ latest reports say ~~that~~ the waters are receding.

Mr Eden in Switzerland

Switzerland: Busy days for Mr Eden. Returning to Geneva, (accompanied by his wife), after the Washington talks, the Foreign Secretary later flew to Paris - for meetings with the French Premier, Mr. Mendes-France, and Mr Dulles of America. Now with a plan for partition - comes hopes for an Indo-China Truce.

Mrs Petrov

Melbourne: Mrs Petrov makes her long-awaited appearance before the Royal Commission on Espionage in Australia. These are the first pictures of ~~her~~ since the famous kid-napping episode on Sydney airport, which led to her joining her husband in seeking political asylum in Australia...

Then Mr Petrov's ^{sensational} ~~sensational~~ disclosures led to this fact-finding enquiry.

Venezuela parade

Venezuela: A procession of 70,000 through the streets of Caracas, marked the 143rd anniversary celebrations of Independence in this South American Republic...

A military parade, too, marching along one of the new boulevards in the Capital. A progressive Nation, Venezuela, ~~looks~~ ^{looks} back with pride - ~~to~~ the day when she won ~~her~~ ~~prize~~ heritage of freedom.
