

~~Eisteddfod~~ ~~at~~ ~~Stradgynlais~~ - near Swansea - is ~~now~~ beflagged for the Royal National Eisteddfod..

To the Pavilion, set in the lovely Welsh country-side, musicians <sup>bring</sup> ~~take~~ their instruments, ~~arrive~~ - as the sound of National songs proclaims that the Eisteddfod has begun / SOUND.

~~Sound~~ Across the valleys and hills comes the music of ~~Wales~~ <sup>an ancient land.</sup> / SOUND
The day of the Crowning of the Bard • Higher Druids are gathered together ~~is~~ in the Pavilion, as the Arch-Druid mounts the platform and presents the ~~new~~ Crown Bard of the ~~next~~ Eisteddfod - the Rev. Lloyd Williams. /

SOUND.

Then ~~the~~ comes the crowning ceremony in the presence of Druids of the Highest Order... <sup>And as a background to all the time-honoured ritual</sup> ~~The time-honoured ritual ends with the massed voices singing~~ <sup>of another great Eisteddfod, there were the matchless voices of</sup> the Welsh National song "Land of My Fathers". / SOUND TO END. <sup>Alfred</sup> <sup>Wales.</sup>