

Kent: Colourful floats drifting down the Royal Military Canal at Hythe - set the seal on yet another Venetian Fete - one of the season's highlights for holiday-makers...

Untiring efforts by local organisations have produced a procession of imaginative and historic tableaux, <sup>Among them -</sup> The Two "Little Princes in the Tower?"

One of the Princes is six-year old John ~~Michael~~ <sup>the Prince</sup> Michell

~~who will become the heir to a £38,000 fortune when he comes of age.~~ <sup>News as the heir to a £58,000 fortune</sup> ~~recently, in the~~ <sup>recently, in the</sup>

~~leading the procession~~
~~is~~. A Mississippi Paddle-boat - converted from a war-time assault craft.

The coming of dusk brings the glittering magic of fairyland as coloured lights outline a Kentish Venice.

A Royal Water Party - with King George the First and members of his court. Most topical float <sup>was</sup> the weather <sup>HOUSE.</sup> ~~house~~. ~~And it's "wet again"~~ Surprised?.. <sup>CARNIVAL</sup> BUT FOR THE ~~FAIR~~ - IT WAS "SET FAIR".

~~But it was set fair for the Carnival that will benefit many local~~ ~~charities.~~