Savarian Strike

Western Germany: Large-scale industrial unrest continues - as metal workers of Bavaria join the National strike - demanding in creased basic wages.

But the strike notices got a mixed reception. Many employees desired to remain remain at work and the police had to form barriers to protect them from the angry strikers.

Altogether, about three million workers are calling for wage increases - in a dispute that may seriously retard German recovery.

Manning the Yards

Ipswich: At H.M.S. Genges - the Navy Training Establishment at Shotley, boys perform the ceremony of "Manning the Mast," during a visit by Admiral Sir George Creasy.

trainees climb the 142 foot high mast to man the yards and shrouds.

And topping them all - 16 year-old Sidney Bulman saluted the White Ensign

A link with the past - as young Sailors of the future pay tribute to those graceful days of sail.
