

Sea Search - Dutch Air Disaster

28th August 54

Holland: Tragic aftermath of aerial disaster - planes and ships searching the grey North Sea for survivors of a Dutch K.L.M. ~~airliner~~ ^{Cloudmaster} ~~stricken~~ ^{flying} from New York to Amsterdam), which disappeared when only five minutes from its destination...

Through a long and anxious day, the search continued ^{INTO THE NIGHT,} and after finding burning wreckage - ~~the~~ pilot boats bring into ^{THE HARBOUR} ~~the~~ - grim remains of the tragedy ^{AMONG THEM} the body of a passenger...

The airliner's last port of call was Shannon Airport, where nine ^{passengers} ~~disembarked~~ disembarked. It is believed that the plane exploded. There were twenty-one, including the crew - on board.

Meanwhile - the flights of sister planes of the stricken Cloudmaster ~~with 50 passengers on board~~ continued - a gesture that revealed the Company's confidence in ^{ITS AIRCRAFT} ~~the~~ and the men who fly them...
