

2165

London: The rustle of Autumn gowns on the Paris boulevards is recaptured at the Dorchester Hotel - by, ~~the famous Jacques Fath models~~ <sup>JACQUES FATH'S FAMOUS MODELS</sup> ~~from FRANCE~~ <sup>from FRANCE</sup>

The collection (which includes this white ermine ~~collar~~ <sup>jacket</sup> with ~~it~~ a fox collar) is the first to be shown in London by the famous French designer - ~~and~~ <sup>IT</sup> was presented on behalf of the Infantile Paralysis Fellowship. From glamour by night to daytime elegance - an orange wool coat and dress for that special Town occasion.

~~and~~ sophistication comes "after-six" with this black wool cocktail dress - to put you in party mood.

Another cocktail dress in heavy-brocaded oyster satin - featuring Jacques Fath's shapely "S" Line - which is leaving certain other French designers flat!!

It seems that the designer also shares the view that "mink is a girl's best friend". This luxurious coat is called "Canada".

Then - ~~the highlight of the collection~~ "La Vie en Rose" - the highlight of the collection. An exquisite evening gown in double-sided rose satin - embroidered with silk flowered motifs. The embroidery alone took 138 ~~hours~~ hours to complete.

And in contrast - the traditional simplicity of the bridal gown - in white satin ~~the~~ <sup>unmistakably styled</sup> the hallmark of a collection - ~~is~~ <sup>is</sup> in Paris...