Sussex: Permanent waves were fashioned on the South Coast - when top hairdressers from eight European countries competed, at Brighton, in the Fifth World Cup Championships.

Held for the first time in Britain - there were separate contests for glamorous evening styles - high fantasy and practical day-time dressings. Each team consisted of five hairdressers - each with their own models. The four previous contests were won by France, and here are some of the finished effects that called for "hair-line decisions" from the international panel of judges.

Grand Prix

France: At Longchamps - [redacted] where horse-racing is nearly as important as the fashions - a crowd of 100,000 watched the start of the Prix De L'Arc de Triomphe - the richest race in Europe.

Among the twenty-one starters was an English-hope, By Thunder, (the Ebor winner). The early pacemakers are Philante and Almaos..

Well into the straight now - and watch Rae Johnstone, (on the outside), bring Sica Boy, the French St. Leger winner - past the pace-maker - to win by a length. By Thunder finished ninth..
