

Archbishop of Canterbury

Rugby: The William Temple College (named after the late Archbishop of Canterbury) has a new permanent home in the place that he loved... After walking in procession to the Old Rectory, the Primate, Dr. Fisher, declared open the new building - which will provide a place where men and women may study the Christian faith - as part of their life's work.

Italian Families leave Trieste

Trieste: Following the recent agreement on this much-disputed territory, the Border Commission has established the new boundary line - when "Zone B" (which once belonged to Italy) becomes ~~the~~ part of Yugoslavia...

With aching hearts, Italian families, who have lived here for years, pack up their worldly possessions to transfer to the neighbouring Zone.

A piece of
~~the~~ heartbreak ~~time~~ for young and old alike - as they set out to build their homes anew...

Formosa and U.S. Fleet~~XXXXXXXXXX~~

Formosa: Marching troops on the island fortress of Nationalist China. In a two-hour military review, crack units of the garrison parade past their leader - General Chiang Kai-Shek - to celebrate the forty-third anniversary of the founding of the Chinese Republic.

A Freedom-day ceremony that reveals the strength of the Nationalist Forces - backed by American-made guns and tanks.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Seventh Fleet maintains a ceaseless vigil around the island stronghold. Under active-service conditions, the refuelling of destroyers is done by an aircraft-carrier - during rough-weather patrols in the South China Seas.

Fire in Holland

Holland: ~~An~~ Early morning blaze at Zaandam, North of Amsterdam, when two large warehouses went up in flames. The buildings were full of ~~inflammable~~ inflammable material, which included tons of ~~cocoa-butter~~ cocoa-butter that escaped into the river Zaan.

Although hundreds of firemen worked non-stop - the crumbling walls and crashing girders combined to make ~~one~~ one of the Newsreel fire-pictures of the year...
