

London: Crooner's Love Story

29th Oct. 54

London: Valentine's Day in the Autumn - ^{WHEN} ~~at~~ over four thousand fans (mostly teenagers) besieged Caxton Hall for the wedding of ice-skater Betty Flynn to their own "heart-throb" - Britain's No. 1 crooner - Dickie Valentine. After the ceremony - the singer and his bride faced the eager fans. And then came ^{quite a} ~~the~~ battle as ^{some very vocal} ~~shouting~~ bobby-soxers surrounded their hero..

~~Just listen to them!~~ SOUND

Well, That's fan-worship 1954 style. But ^{don't shake your heads,} ~~no tut tut tut~~, Mothers. Just remember how the flappers of the 1920's swooned for their Valentine-Oh!
