New York-- Busy days for Queen Mother--

Nov 2nd '54.

Carrying out
New York-- ~~Marking~~ the first official engagement of her American Tour, Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother unveiled, at the Canadian Club of America, a portrait of her daughter the Queen ~~Queen Elizabeth II~~ painted by the well-known British artist ~~Mr~~ Frank Slater.

~~When asked about the artist, Her Majesty told him how pleased she was with the work.~~ that day,

Later ~~in the afternoon~~, the Queen Mother spent nearly two hours at the Metropolitan Museum of Art ~~in Fifth Avenue~~. And the Royal visitor's careful tour of the galleries showed a deep understanding and knowledge of the ~~works~~ ^{works} of both old and modern masters.

the of her visit,
On ~~her~~ second day, the Queen Mother found herself among the skyscrapers, at the top of the famous Empire State Building.

~~According to the official tour guide, she saw the city from a vantage point of 102 storeys high and enjoyed seeing the whole panorama of New York spread out before her.~~
