

London-- Real Life Cinderella-

Dec 31st. '54.

London-- Three five pound notes in a wallet lying in the gutter near her dockland ^{home} were picked up and handed to the Limehouse Police by 13 year-old Jeanette Chiles. ~~to~~ ^{CUE}

Then things began to happen. With the tap of a fairy wand, Jeanette, - dressed in star-spangled finery, drove off in a fairy coach, ~~xxx~~ drawn by Shetland Ponies to somewhere she had always longed to go.

Through the streets of ~~Limehouse~~ ^{Limehouse}, where she lives, motherless with her sick father, the small "Cinderella" ~~xxxxxxxx~~ rode in a ~~fairly~~ lovely dream-world to the first party of her life. This was her reward for honesty, an invitation to the annual ~~xxxxxxxx~~ Children's Party, given by the Limehouse ~~xxxxxxxx~~ Police.

And fairy Godparents sent her along in the finery she was ^{too} ~~so~~ poor to buy.

Jeanette's new dress is the admiration of all, and there is yet another present-- a lovely needlework-case.

And There's no midnight-hour to this story. For so much money has been subscribed by admirers, that a Trust Fund is to be opened for Jeanette Chiles-- the modern Cinderella who knows ^{that} honesty receives its reward.
