

New President

Panama: In a country still numbed by the assassination of its popular President - Senor ~~Remon~~, members of the Diplomatic Corps gather in the Capital to greet the new President (~~for the last time~~) Jose Ramon Guizado. So amid world-wide expressions of Goodwill, Senor Guizado takes office as the 29th President of Panama...

Jap Orphans

America: The airport at San Francisco became the "Golden Gate" to a new life for five Japanese orphans - the first to arrive for adoption in the United States.

After years in an orphanage, this is the day they'll never forget - the day that somebody "claimed them" as their own. A warm welcome from kindly foster-parents who will help them to become ~~happy~~ ^{FEEL THEY REALLY "BELONGS"} citizens of a

~~hospitable nation.~~ ^{THEIR NEW HOMELAND.}

Korea Fire

Korea: Anxious hours in Seoul as fire envelops a petrol storage plant - and threatens to engulf houses and business premises in the Capital.

Quickly on the spot, U.S. Service fire-fighters battled for many hours - ~~and~~ ^{to} get the blaze under control.

Adjoining property was saved; but the storage plant was gutted and much-needed supplies of fuel destroyed.

Poster Girl visits President

~~AMERICAN~~

Washington: From posters throughout America, the face of five year-old Mary Kosloski is leading a National drive to raise funds to fight infantile paralysis. Now little Mary (^{of,} herself a victim of polio since she was five months) meets President Eisenhower at the White House. The Chief Executive signed her autograph book and then paid charming tribute to a brave little lady from Tennessee.
