

Bound for Southampton - the liner "Queen Mary" brings Royal Visitors to Britain - the Shah of Persia and Queen Soraya. Meanwhile, at Spithead, the cruiser "Sheffield" prepares a formal greeting for welcome guests - a salute of guns. SOUND.

Dusk was falling as the liner nosed her way into the Ocean Terminal.

A ~~she~~ bouquet greeted lovely Queen Soraya - ~~she~~ making her first visit to Britain since her schooldays. And the Shah spoke ~~of~~ ^{of}

~~the long history of~~ Anglo-Iranian relations. SOUND

~~Then~~ ^{Then}, the Shah ~~and his queen~~ and his queen left, by special train, for London - where, at Waterloo Station, the Duke of Gloucester (representing the Queen) led the welcome. A ROYAL

~~visit that should do much to re-establish an old friendship~~

VISIT THAT SHOULD DO MUCH TO RE-ESTABLISH AN OLD FRIENDSHIP.