

Hertfordshire New Town

BRITAIN'S SATELLITE

Hertfordshire: One of the "new towns" that are springing up in the Home Counties is Stevenage - which already has a population of over 16,000. Here, many of London's overflow population are settling into a new life - their children thriving in suntrap schools and outdoor conditions. A visitor to the town was Signor Scelba, the Italian Prime Minister, who during his year in office - has already introduced many social reforms in his own country.

At ~~the~~ Signor Scelba made the acquaintance of some of the happy new citizens of Stevenage.

Prisoner released

~~London: For trying to discover the whereabouts of his brother, who mysteriously disappeared in Prague, in 1949, Mr Hermann Field, an American architect, was imprisoned for five years in Poland. After his release, he spent some time in Switzerland - he returns to a happy family re-union.~~

Rumanian Legation

Switzerland: The Rumanian Legation in Berne became the centre of hostilities when armed men stormed the building and barricaded themselves in.

Swiss Police surrounded the Legation, but were unable to enter because it is technically Rumanian territory.

Among the watching crowds was the <sup>Rumanian</sup> Minister, ~~who~~. The <sup>anti-Communist</sup> invaders ~~claimed to be anti-Communists and~~ refused to surrender until five members of their underground movement, arrested in Rumania, were released. ~~But later - they capitulated.~~
