

Hello Folks! We're looking for those brighter days. Don't let that snow fool you - ^{Spring is on the way - but it's so good looking for that} Spring is on the way. Cuckoo! ~~Spring is on the way~~

~~There's another sign - the seal is cleaning his fur coat. He knows that he's keeping it for another year.~~
There's another sign - the seal is cleaning his fur coat. He knows that ^{got to make it do for} he's keeping it for another year.

Of course, some Zoo inmates have been dreaming, hopefully, of more snow...

Others just plod on - wishing that they could forget it. Visitors are on the way, too, so he's training for the Spring double - cakes and buns. /

In the cities, too, the shop-windows are dressed to ~~welcome~~ ^{welcome} the new season. /

Yet, still not convinced that General Winter was in retreat, we sent our cameraman on a scouting mission. At Ware, Hertfordshire, he was just in time to greet those crinkly harbingers of Spring - newly-born lambs. ^{heralds}

And Soon - the woolly youngsters were stepping out into a brave, new world. /

~~they had still not heard of the first snow.~~
But ^{before long, they} ~~they~~ soon found other pitfalls. Some began studying form...until Mother called them away - and told them not to be a mutton-head like their Father. /

Others just hit the bottle. Happy days! /

Now for a spot of exercise...this must be the joy of Spring.. /

~~Goodbye folks - this is the end of our tale - for in wishing you the "goodbye" of the season, we know that~~

~~THE SEASON BRINGS NO PEACE. (Set out of it!) NEVER MIND - TIME FLIES - AND THEY'LL GROW UP QUICKLY ENOUGH! /~~
