

Mameriagexerem Duke at Nice

France: Flying from Britain in a Viking of the Queen's Flight, the Duke of Edinburgh arrived at Nice Airport. After spending a few days on the Riviera, at the home of his aunt, the Marchioness of Milford naven, the moyal Visitor sailed in the yacht "Britannia" to watch Combined Fleet exercises in the Mediterranean.

Cambridge Crew

Putney: Wintry conditions welcomed the Cambridge crew to the Tideway - to begin their final training, over the actual Boat Race course, for the lolst "Battle of the Blues"

The ill-wind was still blowing their way when Cambridge learned that mixing their President, D.K. Hill (who has chicken pox) was out of the race.

The Light Blues have two Americans in their boat and will be one of the heaviest crews in the history of the race.

Egypt

Egypt: Recently, the Egyptian Government has been embellishing fatter of cairo. Roads have been paved and capabiled and it was decided to bring from Memphis, the Statue of Remeses the Great - to adorn a public square. The forty-foot Statue (which is about three thousand years old) weighs eighty tons.

New Olympic arena

Australia: With the fight for the Ashes over, a light for the prepare for the 1956 olympic Games.

for the 1956 olympic Games.

This is the world's biggest cricket ground; With the addition of new stands, welbourne will exeminate accommodate 125,000.

This is the model for the new Swimming Pool - the winning design, entered by five young erchitects in a National competition.

The Pool will form part of the olympic Park where

The Pool will form part of the olympic Park where where says swimming, eyeling and seccest will take place, as Melbourne prepares an arena - worthy of olympic contest.