Moroccan Dam

29th April 1955

Morocco: Arriving to open A new dam on [redacted], THE Minister of Tunisian and Moroccan Affairs, first attends a ceremony which demonstrates the age-old hospitality of Berber tribes.

The new dam (which is over 350 feet high) creates an artificial lake that will be used for the irrigation of neighbouring plains. A generating station, too, will provide local power.

~~A Ministerial visit of progress that~~ fired the local tribesmen with enthusiasm.

Wood Memorial

New York: All eyes on the starting gate, and, away they go - a select field of five - in the nine furlong Wood Memorial - one of the principal trials for the Kentucky Derby.

But in the straight - it's a two-horse race...with Summer Tan leading, and Nassau in hot pursuit. Yard by yard - Nassau overhauls the leader [redacted]. A fourth successive triumph for Nassau - so look out, Kentucky!
