

At Wembley, Great Britain faced the sparkling challenge of America's "Golden Gloves" champions.

In the flyweight bout, Gunner Lloyd, (the A.B.A. Champion), was soon in trouble against coloured Tommy Reynolds - and went down in the first round. The Gunner came back fighting; but the American boy now had the range and Lloyd took a barrage of blows before the Referee stopped the fight.

America (boxing in striped trunks) were leading by four bouts to three when Bernard Foster (the Birmingham K.O. Specialist) unleashed his hammer blows on Fred Ruebe of Chicago.

And before the first round ended - the contest was stopped. Ruebe had a badly-cut eye. ③

The final bout opened, with the score four-all, and Eddie Jenkins of Detroit ^{raised} ~~raised~~ blows on Frank Hope of Liverpool ⁱⁿ ~~is~~ an all-out effort for victory.

In Round Two - Hope hit back and knocked the American ^{right} / off the gold standard.

Then, amid tremendous excitement, both boys ^{really mixed it} ~~began to mix it~~ - trading punch for punch and pouring out their gold and dollar reserves.

~~.....~~. Then - the verdict. The winner ~~is~~....

Frank Hope. Great Britain had won the first "Golden Gloves" battle since 1936.
