

2241.

Guildhall: Sir Winston's Statue unveiled

24th June 1955

London: A colourful prelude to Guildhall ceremony as ^{the} ~~the~~ greatest ^{of} modern statesmen, Sir Winston Churchill, inspects Pikemen of the Honourable Artillery Company - in their traditional 17th Century uniform.

Inside the venerable building, a modern chapter is added to the rich pageant of London history as the Lord Mayor unveils a statue to the distinguished visitor.

Standing by the statue (commissioned by the City Corporation in recognition of his great services to the Nation) Sir Winston ~~referred to~~
~~the House of Commons~~

~~the~~ ^{SPoke} ^{OF} his admiration for the art of the Yugoslav ~~sculptor~~
~~sculptor~~ AND CONTINUED / (SOUND)
Sculptor, Mr Oscar Nemon,

The statue, cast in bronze, will adorn the new Council Chamber - a grateful City's tribute to a ^{matchless} ~~great~~ leader in war and peace.