

London: At the Golden Jubilee banquet of the British Olympic Association, the Duke of Edinburgh addressed a gathering that represented every Olympic sport. With Roger Bannister was Yvonne Sugden (on the right) our hope for ice-skating honours.

And Colonel Llewellyn: ^{too -} but not his famous partner, Foxhunter. SOUND.

~~Speaking on the occasion of the Olympic funds, the Duke said~~
THE 1956 OLYMPIC GAMES WILL BE IN AUSTRALIA, AND THE DUKE WAS LEAVING
~~his support to an appeal for Olympic funds.~~

HE HAD decided views on "state-sponsored sportsmen." SOUND.
