

News flashes (continued)Blood donors

Dublin: At the Theatre Royal, morning rehearsals were in full swing, and then, a nurse stopped the show. With ^{the} typical generosity of Show Business, the entire cast had promised to become blood donors. From the usherettes to the leading lady, the Theatre ~~made~~ ^{made} its contribution. And in years to come, many a youngster will say, with some degree of truth: "I've got show business in my veins!"

Bowling congress

America: At Rochester, the "Kingpins of the skittle alleys" set them rolling in the 53rd National Bowling Congress. Nearly six thousand teams from all over the world - including three from Canada, are competing in a mammoth tourney that will last seventy-nine days. And with half-a-million dollars in prize money to be won, those bowlers are hoping to "hit the jackpot" ~~X~~ Bullseye!

Cyprus: Determined to restore law and order to the island, the Governor has ordered the deportation of Archbishop Makarios, ~~leader of the Union with Greece movement.~~ This follows the Archbishop's refusal to use his ~~own~~ influence to prevent further violence.

Knighthood for General Glubb

London: Arriving at Buckingham Palace to attend an investiture by the Queen is ~~a distinguished soldier,~~ Lt. General John Glubb - ~~until~~ ^{the retirement}

^{gallic who was until} recently the Commander of Jordan's Arab Legion.

The General, whose ~~recent~~ dismissal from his post by King Hussein of Jordan has shocked the Western world, was appointed a Knight Commander of the Order of the Bath for his outstanding services in the Middle East. ~~of the Order of the Bath.~~