

News flashes

Italian fashions

Italy: Reviving memories of a past era, the stately rooms of the Royal Palace of Caserta, near Naples, resound again, to the tread of a fashionable company - though with a 20th century look. The occasion was a Fashion Parade, staged by leading Italian Couturiers. And the lovely gardens of the Palace formed an ideal background to Spring and Summer fashions.

Memorial Parade

London: Remembrance in Hyde Park, when the Duke of Gloucester, as Patron of the Combined Cavalry Old Comrades, took the salute at a Service to mark the unveiling of the Cavalry Memorial.

Among the veterans "on parade" was 92 year-old Mr Hind (who fought at the battle of Teleskebir, in 1882) honouring a solemn pledge to remember those who fell in Two World Wars.

President Tito

Paris: Making an official visit to France for discussions on international affairs, ^{is} President Tito of Yugoslavia, ^{THE PRESIDENT, WHO WAS} accompanied by his wife, was warmly greeted by M. Coty, ~~the~~ President of the Republic. Amid the most stringent security precautions, the two Heads of State drove together ^{to} ~~down~~ the Elysees Palace, where the President and his wife were staying.

Later, the distinguished guest visited the Arc de Triomphe - where he paid tribute at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Coronation in Nepal

~~India:~~ ^{Nepal!} Oriental splendour and pageantry in Katmandu, capital of the State of Nepal, in honour of the Coronation of the world's only Hindu Monarch, the 36 year-old King Mahendra and his Queen...

~~The King is the ninth ruler of the Shah dynasty, which was founded over two hundred years ago.~~

Highlight of the brilliant ceremony was the Royal Durbar - (immediately following the Coronation), with forty elephants carrying specially-invited ~~dignit~~ dignitaries.../6

The Queen was represented by the Earl of Scarborough, ~~whose~~ ^{whose} ~~gender~~ robes brought added lustre to the magnificent occasion.

So amid the acclamation of State guests and envoys from fifteen foreign countries - the King was enthroned in his Nepalese Capital.
 Nepal rails its newly-crowned King