

Charlie Chaplin gets his "ticket"-

May 29th. '56.

A reception near London to honour a "great man of cinema"-
Charlie Chaplin; a proud moment shared by his small daughter, Geraldine. The British Film Academy installed the world's greatest film actor and technician as an honorary Life Member. ~~While~~ the President of the Association of Cine Technicians gives him his "Union Ticket"- watched by Mrs Chaplin. (Sound)
Modestly and briefly, Charlie replies. (Sound)
So a treasured Membership Scroll rewards a lovable screen character-for his forty years of outstanding film achievement.
