Royal Tour of Scotland- Local 2350 July 10th. [56.

The Royal Tour moves to the McEwan Hall, Edinburgh, where the Duke of Edinburgh (wearing the black and gold gown of Chancellor of the University) performed the traditional "capping" of recipients of honorary degrees.

The Rev Selby Wright- Minister at the Canongate, - becomes a Doctor of Divinity.

The award of Doctor of Laws for Sir John Banks- Lord Provost of Edinburgh Sir William Hutchison, President of the Royal Scottish Academy: and Miss Elizabeth Looker- Principal Warden of Women's hostels, both received a similar degree.

Finally, Professor Richard Pares, of Edinburgh University, joins the distinguished company of graduates- to be presented with the honour of Doctor miximum of Laws by the Royal Chancellor.

the Queen and the Duke were hosts at an afternoon party in the gardens of the Palace of Holyrood House.

On the broad sunlit lawns, men and women (many of them well-known figures in Scottish public life) enjoyed the privilege of talking with the Queen and her husband.

An informal gathering , which is always such a welcome feature of the Sovereign's stay in the capital.

During the licenson, the Duke had a word with men of the Queen's Bodyguard for Scotland- the Royal Company of Archers- on duty for the occasion.

While visiting Berwick-on-Tweed, Her Majesty, who was accompanied by the Mayor- Alderman Adams drove to the old bridge, xxxxxx where she met the Secretary of the Berwick Salmon Fisheries - Mr Tom Elliot-And the presentation of a freshly-vaught fish (weighing I2 lbs), assured the Queen of a tasty breakfast.

Royal Scottish Tour- ctd-

On now to Eyemouth, where beflagged boats brought a seafaring welcome to the Royal visitors, and the Queen graciously responded to x the acclamation of her loyal Scottish subjects. Cheers were the order of the day, as the Royal Party drove down Bewwick High Street, en route for the Town Hall, where the Queen and the Duke warmly acknowledged the tremendous burst of enthusiasm. A peep into the past history of Berwick, when ancient prison cellsmany of which have been restored- were inspected. Dunsyxwhere whose Duns was the next stopping place Here, Her Majesty gistered the occasion by signing the distinguished greatsix broke ARGERERAL Visitors book. And her husband also recorded the GERRIBER event A colourful ride-past was a special feature enjoyed by the Royal sightseers, before the left for the United East Lothian Agricultural Society's Show, hater watching an impressive parade of live-steek, the Queen presented gold medals to two workers who had given long years of service to agriculture in Scotland. And later, presented handsome cups to the prize-winners. And the show brought a big moment for whall schools presented a bouquet to the Queen. Before leaving Scotlanf for London later in the day, the Queen and the Dune drove to St Giles Cathedral, ... provession , before the ceremonial installation of two new Knights of the Thistle by Her Majesty. In the grounds of the Palace of Holyrood House, a peerless musical treat by Scottish pipers brought infinite pleasure to their Sovereign and her consort. While displays of Highland dancing by members of the Royal Scottish ADDED County Dance Society brought their own special appeal.

2350

Royal Tour -ctd-

At the end of the performance, the Queen personally thanked the artists who, by their skill and artistry, had contributed so magnificently to a successful Scottish tour.