

Cardinal Griffin

London: People in all walks of life mourn the death, while on holiday in Cornwall, of Cardinal Griffin, Archbishop of ~~Southampton~~ <sup>WESTMINSTER</sup>, who was well-known for his spiritual work ~~in the Capital~~ <sup>throughout Britain</sup>.

Although his duty lay in the ways of the Church, the Cardinal (seen here during a visit to Pinewood Studios) was ~~to~~ quick to realise that the British film industry could have a strong moral influence upon the life of the Nation.

The world will be the poorer for the passing of a great Church Leader.

Canadian road

Canada: Following the trail across the Rocky Mountains, blazed by pioneers so long ago, ~~determined~~ engineers are constructing a modern highway through the tortuous Kicking Horse Pass - five thousand feet ~~above~~ above sea level.

This invasion of their lofty domain excites the curiosity of local ~~inhabitants~~ inhabitants until blasting operations begin. The mountain sheep beat a hasty retreat - but the work goes on - to bridge the final barrier in the 5,000 mile Trans-Canada Highway - linking the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

52 years under British Rule

East Africa: ~~Remember~~ Beneath Mount Hora, ~~the hall of the massacre, in~~ in Nyasaland, the Angoni tribe celebrate a great anniversary. ~~and~~ <sup>and</sup> ~~Chief~~ Chief Mtwalo looks back over fifty-two years of progress;... ~~in~~ <sup>HE</sup> in 1904, ~~Chief Mtwalo~~ placed his ~~tribe~~ tribe under British protection. To-day, the Governor of Nyasaland, ~~arrives to~~ <sup>arrives to</sup> join the celebrations of an African people who, under wise guidance, have found peace and prosperity.