

With the Middle East still making world headlines, our film report begins in Israel. There, at an Artillery School, young Officers celebrate their "pass-out" as fully-fledged Gunners - with the ~~traditional~~ traditional parade.

Arriving in Athens, Mr Lennox-Boyd, <sup>BRITAINS</sup> the Colonial Secretary, held discussions with the Greek Government on Lord Radcliffe's constitutional proposals. Yet another British attempt to solve the Cyprus problem. /s

In Port Said, Lord Hailsham, (First Lord of the Admiralty), made a tour of Naval vessels. At a Press Conference, held <sup>on board</sup> H.M.S. Forth, he proved himself a staunch champion of Britain - over the use of <sup>THEIR</sup> ~~our~~ salvage fleet <sup>have</sup>.

Meanwhile, the final days of the Allied withdrawal ~~has~~ been marked by increasing Egyptian attacks.

During a search of the Arab quarter (after a British Officer had been kidnapped) British troops rounded up suspects...

~~...~~ A small quantity of rifles <sup>was</sup> ~~was~~ found, and also, about one thousand rounds of ~~ammunition~~ ammunition. /s

All ~~the~~ suspects were ~~thoroughly~~ searched for hidden weapons, and then led off for interrogation.

Meanwhile, the Allied Force has been withdrawn into a ~~close-guarded~~ closely-guarded beach-head. /

Lastly, the happiest Middle East news - the arrival of troops at Southampton - on board the troopship "Dilwara". One man was ready to cap his timely return with something for that stocking. So, it's "welcome home" and some well-earned leave - for the men who have <sup>served</sup> ~~performed~~ with credit <sup>in</sup> -/a most difficult operation. /
