

Satellites

Washington: The initial steps in man's conquest of outer space are being taken at the Naval Laboratory - where a man-made satellite is under construction...

Carrying ^{delicate} ~~delicate~~ instruments, the tiny globe will be carried 300 miles up - by a booster rocket. Then, circling the earth at fantastic speeds, it will relay-back scientific data of the unknown.

Duke of Edinburgh

Australia: Nearing the end of his tour, the Duke of Edinburgh visited Morwell, Victoria - to open the new ten-million-pound gas plant.

Using brown coal, the plant supplies Melbourne with gas - 103 miles away.

~~It will mark Victoria's independence~~

~~supplies~~ and the "switch-on" was marked in symbolic manner.

Judy Grinham

At London Airport - members of the Hampstead Ladies' Swimming Club gave a great reception to their gold medal champion, 17 year-old Judy Grinham. The first British Olympic swimming champion since 1924, Judy won the 100 Metres backstroke, with another London girl, Margaret Edwards, third. A great performance that deserved this grand "welcome home!"

Leather fashions

America: "As tough as leather goes the old saying. But now-a-days, leather can be pliable, too, ready to be moulded into becoming fashions for the outdoor girl. ~~States of America?~~

But if you think its use is limited, just look at this attractive range - to suit all occasions...

Yes, the humble buck-skin has come a long way since those early pioneers ^{dressed in} ~~stretched their~~ hides on the lonesome trail...
