

Durban: South Africa's hopes rising. By sound batting they near England's first-innings total. This could be a victory Kuildup: build-up.

Then Wardle strikes. Funston clean bowled arrears.

And when Statham bowled Waite - England were already in knaxed.

McClean completed his great century, then fell into an Essex trap.

Caught Insole. Bowled Bailey.

But he received a great ovation for the first South African century - this series.

The tail-enders added weulable runs: but finally, Wardle got Adcock

Facing South Africa's 283 (and a deficit of sixty-five) England set out to betrieve their fortunes.

But when Compton was caught, off Tayfield. England were 77 for two.

Once again, an England crisis produced a hero Doug Insole-to make his first test hundred

While another gallant knock by Bailey (batting with a broken finger) wars a highlights of a hard-fought drawn match...

So, with their two earlier victories, England have not lost a test series since 1951.
