

The soccer fans are delighted. Bournemouth have won a cup after all. At Dean Court, Skipper Harold Hughes receives the "Giantkiller" cup - presented by the Sunday Pictorial. Commemorating those great victories over the Wolves and the Spurs, the Cup will be presented, each year, to the little team who are the biggest giantkillers!

Over now to Paris - where France received Wales for the season's last Rugby international.

Relieved of grim championship cares, both teams played sparkling Rugby. And here's a French try.

Altogether, seven tries were scored in the match - and the final score favoured Wales by nineteen points to thirteen.

And though it may not have been championship stuff, ~~there are not with the match~~ here's a Welsh try that certainly looked spectacular.

In Belgium, the International Cross-Country Championships took place at Waregem. ~~And in the British~~

And among the British stars competing in the ten-Nation event were Frank Sando, Basil Heatley and Ken Norris.

In a gruelling nine-mile race, over thirty-five obstacles, Frank Sando romped home in great style. Heatley and Norris were second and third.

So England had the first three home: but they could only finish third in the team event.

Finally, with British boxing back on the ropes, we looked for budding white hopes at the A.B.A. Junior Championships. In Class "A" (under seven stone) L. Fyfe beat F. Mattingley, on points.

^{At this} ~~At~~ Albert Hall occasion, Godfrey Evans and Stanley Matthews were among sporting stars at the ringside.

Though they scale under nine stone seven - T. Lavin of Doncaster and J.W. Blower of Hendon were soon punching their weight.

Once the Hendon boy took a short count: but he was ready to come back fighting...

And Doncaster (the home of Bruce Woodcock) sends out another championship hope in T. Lavin - a worthy winner.
