

Stanley Matthews

West Africa: A new title for Stanley Matthews. The famous soccer maestro is crowned "King of Soccer" by fervent admirers - at an installation ceremony held at the Accra Community Centre.

There's little close-season rest for the evergreen veteran. He's now playing in a series of exhibition matches in Ghana. A modern football missionary outlining his message with those twinkling feet.

Cheshire Homes

Bromley: Here, a new home for the ^{sick} ~~sick~~ is under construction and Lady Dorothy Macmillan is laying the Foundation Stone.

Watching the ceremony is Group Captain Cheshire V.C., the man whose faith in humanity has inspired other Cheshire Foundation Homes for the Sick.

This new wing will complete the St. Cecilia Home - where Lady Dorothy and the Group-Captain brought fresh encouragement to the patients.

Oak Apple

London: Oak Apple Day - Chelsea Pensioners receive the traditional emblem in memory of King Charles II ~~who hid in an oak tree after the battle of Worcester~~ ^{AND A FRIENDLY WORD FROM THE DUKE OF GLOUCESTER.}

~~The Duke of Gloucester was the Duke of Gloucester, the Duke of Gloucester.~~ ^(WHO FOUNDED THE HOSPITAL) The emblem is a reminder that King Charles hid in an oak tree after the battle of Worcester.

Eisenhower

America: Down on the farm. A restful day at Gettysburg for Dr. Adenauer, the West German Chancellor, as the guest of President Eisenhower.

For the two ~~Western~~ Western statesmen - this was their way of breaking the ice in an informal atmosphere - before their three days of official talks, in Washington...

Helicopter

In Louisiana, a United States Army helicopter had made an unscheduled landing - crashing in a forest during a big-scale exercise.

But as ground crews clear the area - a sister ship comes to the rescue. So the unexpected happening proves a valuable lesson for the future... This was the first rescue of its kind in helicopter history.
