Tattoo rehearsals

Paris: Renowned for their daredevil riding skill, the famous French Republican Guard ~~is~~ (the President's escort on official occasions) <sup>are</sup> ~~are~~ ~~rehearsal~~ rehearsing for a London occasion. They are to appear at the forthcoming White City Searchlight ~~Tattoo~~. <sup>12/5</sup>

A mounted troop of a different kind, the colourful Spahis Cavalry, are also in training for the same show...

One of the last cavalry units in France, these North African (mounted on pure-white Arab steeds) are to-day trained as commandos.

But For ceremonial displays, however, they still wear their flowing white robes... <sup>16/8</sup>

America: Marines visit

UNITED STATES: ~~America:~~ During a visit to Washington, a Royal Marine detachment from the carrier "Ark Royal" (which took part in the Jamestown Naval review) <sup>was</sup> ~~was~~ entertained by the U.S. Marines - "The Leathernecks"

During their two-day stay, the British visitors were paid a unique tribute - the Americans performing a guard-mounting ceremony in their honour: they were also taken on a sightseeing tour of the Capital. <sup>19/7</sup>

German Naval manoeuvres

~~The Baltic~~

The Baltic: Somewhere in the old familiar waters off Jutland, ships of the new West German Navy leave for their first big "shake-down" cruise. But now it's a pocket-sized fleet of minesweepers, patrol vessels, ~~and~~ tenders and torpedo boats that sail again - this time as a European defence force... <sup>15/10</sup>
