Glasgow Degree Day-

June 20th. '57.

Graduation Day at Glasgow University-- And it's a proud moment for red-gowned dignitaries, as they walk in procession to the Bute Hall, to receive their honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Chancellor Lord Boyd-Orr.

Among those accepting the accolade of the University was the Scottish Film Magnate, Sir Alexander Boyne King.

Also joining the goodly company of those who have gained ~~honours~~ distinctive honours was Francis George Scott- the composer.

~~While~~ Scholars from the Universities of London, Bonn and Freiburg brought an international flavour to this ~~high~~ academic occasion.

Sir Alexander Boyne King (the boy from Rutland Street School) has come a long way since he earned his first coppers as a programme-seller. ~~For~~ ^{great} Not only is he a/showman - ~~but~~ he also has an immense record of public service.
