

2452

Spy men in Britain-

July 1st. '57.

London Airport-- Freedom at last- after 300 days of captivity- for Mr John Stanley and Mr Charles Pittuck, who were acquitted after being accused by an Egyptian Court of spying for Britain.

When asked by reporters when things began to get worse, Mr ~~Pittuck~~ Pittuck referred to the LAST WEEKS OF 1956 SOUND

Questioned ~~in~~ as to whether he considered it had been a fair trial.

FOR THOSE CONVICTED
A

Mr Stanley spoke of language-difficulties in understanding the evidence

~~_____~~ SOUND.

~~_____~~
~~_____~~

After happy family reunions, the two men drove off - with just one ~~them~~ thought uppermost- the pressing need for a jolly good holiday.