Eastbourne Carnival-

July 8th. '57.

One of the highlights of the summer season is the seaside Carnival. And Eastbourne celebrated its big day with a "~~QUANT~~ Dog Show", when youngsters in fancy dress, shared the honours with their pets.

A charitable occasion, organised by the "Round Table"- in aid of their fund for children who have never seen the sea.

It was certainly a day to remember, as the carnival procession made its lively way through the crowded streets of this popular South Coast ~~XXXX~~ resort.

There were over 80 decorated cars, each with a colourful story to tell.

This was the first time since the war, that Eastbourne ~~has~~ revived this ever-popular event. And, of course, pride of place must go to the glamorous Carnival Queen- reigning supreme amid her stately Court.

The many ingenious tableaux ~~represented all kinds of contemporary~~ ^{had a wide range -} ~~XXXX~~ life, ranging from a comic Fire Brigade, and Civil Defence display, to a League of Health and Beauty scene, and some Scottish country dancing.

Finally- warm congratulations to all the organisers and planners whose hard work contributed so much to the undoubted success of Eastbourne's 1957 Carnival.
