return from outer space.

15/11/57.

From America comes this news story of the latest United States challenge in the battle of the rockets. This is the U.S. Army Jupiter-C missile ^{with its cone} which President Eisenhower described as having journeyed to outer space --- and returned to earth intact.

The cone --- said to have travelled hundreds of miles away from the earth --- was picked up with its parachute in the ~~target area~~ target area.
