

A hundred thousand fans got the afternoon off to watch the Wembley international between England and Russia. It's England in the white shirts. All the Russians except one were from Clubs in Moscow. (BRING UP)

Russia kicked off. This was the team that knocked England out of the World Cup: but in this first Russian international visit to Britain their forwards met more than their match in the home defence. (BRING UP)

The first half was almost over with no score when Charlton No. 8 led an England attack - the ball went to Johnny Haynes - and Haynes put in it. (B.U.)

Congratulations from Charlton to Haynes on a fine finishing touch. (BRING UP)

In the second half, England reaped a golden harvest of goals. Here's the second one from Johnny Haynes. (BRING UP)

Not long after, Haynes completed a lovely hat-trick. (BRING UP)

Now watch how Douglas on the far side was tripped almost on the -line (B.U.)

With the spot kick - Bobby Charlton made no mistake. (BRING UP)

Then when the referee was drawing breath for the final whistle -

Lofthouse whistled in a whizzer. (BRING UP)

Thus England avenged their defeat in the World Cup with a crushing victory by five goals to nil. (BRING UP)
