MILAN GETS IT AGAIN.

The heavy aircraft of Bomber Command have, in a series of deadly blows, made Milan the Hamburg of Italy. The Operational pictures you are about to see were taken on the night when the recent all-Lancaster raid turned Milan into a dead city. Periodical stepping of the film reveals in steadier detail, the extermination of an extensive part of Italy's important centre of war production.

Eight miles of ruins stretch out from the centre of the town as this gigantic rubbing-out process develops. It was from this blazing and bomb flattened ~~the~~ ruin that the population fled in panic to Rome shouting for peace.

To shake off fascism is not enough. Badoglio's "open city" smoke screens are but attempts to win time. The people of Italy recognise "Unconditional Surrender" as the best way out.

This is the chief ingredient which will, make for open anarchy in Italy, unless Badoglio ceases his hedging and twisting to escape the inevitable.
