

WHERE THERE'S A WHEEL.....

Cycling Club for servicemen on leave. Enterprising veterans of the wheel have started something which has really caught on. Of course there are one or two novices. Take Slim for example; a trier, but he just can't keep up with the boys. This little excursion is taking them along the banks of the Nile to the pyramids. Maybe we'd better see how.... no leave him alone. There's that great big lump of solid ----- Now Slim, you know I wasn't meaning that for you - - it's these Pyramids I'm talking about. Don't let it get you down ohno. Pick the roay thing up and hoof it. You've guessed it boys....It's not the Sphinx, it's poor old Slim. Well, he made it. Maybe the trip back is worrying him a bit - but what's that to an old sweat.
