

PATHE GAZETTE: 43/88.

SAVE BREAD - TRAILER

They used to say of Edward Kelly, his eye was bigger than his belly,
Because he always piled his plate, more than he could ever eat,
Afraid especially he was wasteful, could not see it was disgraceful.
His friends said 'Ed it's wrong of you, to waste your bread the way you do,
Don't order two loaves every day and go on throwing bread away,
This food you know you really must not crumble it or leave the crust.
It's bad enough at any time, at times like these it is a crime'.
Infuriated by his sniggers, his chums produced official figures.
A normal man would show disgust at this sad waste of crumb and crust.
But Ed was deaf to what they said, he went on madly eating bread.
Until one day as they foresaw, the dreaded minions of the law,
Prepared a rather subtle trap and nabbed the horrid little chap.
They took him before the court that deals with food destroying imbeciles.
The Judge said 'You're the kind of moron who doesn't know that there's a war on - Well if you don't it's time ou did, for wasting bread you are fined a quid'.
Moral: When food is short you oughtn't treat your bread as unimportant.