

SPORTS MEETING.

Allied Track and Field Championships held in Rome at the one-time Forum Mussolini, now renamed the Foro D'Italia. It was intended for holding the Olympic Games but, unfinished at the outbreak of war, this Allied meeting became the first ever held in the stadium. The 400 metres provides a sparkling finish by Sgt. Downey.

Now watch this burst of speed as these long legs carry their owner past the leader and on to the finish.

Here excitement is provided by the 1500 metres. The number of negro competitors in the championships is unusually big. The athletic standard is really hot. Excitement runs high as the runners go all out at the last lap. With a terrific spurt the winner passes the rest and carries through to a magnificent finish.
