GENERAL ELECTION - SIR ARCHIBALD SINCLAIR

"Germany is beaten and the war in Europe is over. Praise be to our gallant soldiers, sailors and airmen and to all the men and women in the Merchant Navy, in Civil Defence, in field and factory, in mines and offices, who under providence have won the victory. Britons never shall be slaves. It was to keep Britain free that the Liberal Party came into being and freedom is what it lives for, and fights for still. Liberals won for Britain the right to vote and the voting secret so as to be free from intimidation. Liberals gave us free education, national health and unemployment insurance, old age pensions and many other great reforms that we now take for granted. We Liberals of today invite you to travel with us again along the highroads of freedom. Our goal is a new Britain, strong, healthy, well-educated, well-housed, enjoying full employment in a free society. Our aim is peace with justice abroad and freedom with security at home. If that is what you want, for yourselves and your children, come with us straight forward along the Liberal way.
