

PEOPLE AND PLACES IN THE NEWS

Jerusalem, prominent among the world's trouble spots, and scene of the latest outrage by Jewish terrorists. The City's Police Headquarters was blown up. In three attacks, nine soldiers, (four of them British) were killed. General Cunningham, newly appointed High Commissioner, has the unenviable task of breaking ultra-Zionist terrorism.

The funeral procession of the victims, passes the walls of the ancient citadel, through a city of silence, to the cemetery in the hills above the Bethlehem Road. All the terrorists got from this outrage, is world condemnation and ~~more~~ nine more graves in the Holy Land.

In Malaya, the first consignments of rubber are sorted before shipment to Europe. These crude-rubber stocks were accumulated by the Japs. Lack of shipping piled up supplies at the dockside. You can guess what's in them by the way they drop and Britain loses no time in making the most of an unexpected windfall.

Hand tapping methods are in use again. The Japs smashed all machinery. But Europe's rubber shortage is so acute that every drop helps.

To get Malayan rubber going again, three times the peacetime labour is needed. And that's why rubber is given priority number one.

In British ruled Hamburg, German torpedoes are out into scrap. It's a bit late in their lives but these Jerries finally get a chance to do something constructive for a change.

Harmless now, the stacked sections stand by while the scrapping process switches to U.boats. Still more reminders of war-gengering Germany are wiped out.
